

Wayne Ting

Chief Executive Officer
Lime

Wayne Ting is Lime's Chief Executive Officer, a role he has held since May 2020. Wayne joined Lime in 2018 as Global Head of Operations and Strategy and has been instrumental in driving the company toward its mission to build a future for transportation that is shared, affordable and carbon-free. During his time as CEO, Wayne has focused the company on its relentless pursuit toward operational excellence and in 2023 led Lime to become the first micromobility company to achieve a fully profitable year (2022) on both an adjusted and unadjusted EBITDA basis.

Before joining Lime, Wayne spent four years at Uber in various roles, including Chief of Staff to CEO Dara Khosrowshahi, and General Manager of Uber's Northern California business. Wayne previously served as a Senior Policy Advisor on the White House's National Economic Council under President Obama. Prior to the White House, Wayne worked at Bain Capital and at McKinsey & Company. In college, he co-founded CampusNetwork.com, the first college-based social networking site (started about 6 months before Facebook). Wayne is a graduate of Columbia University and Harvard Business School.